

SACC Kids Club

March 29, 2020: Astronaut Theme

Hi SACC Kiddos!

This is our second “SACC Kids Club” post. This week you can earn 10 chips for just participating. Pick from any or all of the activities below. Post a picture, video or just comment on what you have learned or liked about any of the activities.

We know you all have an interest in space. We have so many cool activities for you to try this week!

A real astronaut named Annie will read to you while she’s floating in a rocket. The book is called Astronaut Annie (Run time is about 8 minutes).

When Annie stood up on a chair, what did she put on her head? We learned that astronaut Annie knew what she wanted to be when she grew up and she worked hard for it. Annie got a job most kids dream about. Do you know what you want to be when you grow up? This video will show you some wild animal jobs!

Here are stories about some very odd jobs that people have: A Jellyfish Whisperer, A Dung Detective and more! Learn more about them by watching this video “You Wanna Be What?”

If you had the chance to ask an astronaut a question, what would it be? The kids on this video did meet some real astronauts. Listen to the questions they asked.
